DEDICATION

When that something indefinable
Cries within the sinews of us,
When that never-liberated spirit
Asks more from our lives,
Let it be possible for each of us
To find a peace, a fulfillment, a haven.
Let the knowledge stored within the folds of our minds,
Grant us accomplishment and success;
The success that comes from seeing
Dreams become realities; hopes become proof
That life has no boundaries, no forseeable end.
Let all the friends we've met and treasured
Provide the soothing past we'll never forget.
Let the life we leave, prepare us for the life
We rush, maybe blindly, to meet.
And let there be an escape from sorrow
That gnawing, gorging sorrow of seeing
Glittering and buoyant life
Grow tarnished and subdued.

LAFAYETTE HIGH SCHOOL

Benson Ave., Bay 43rd St. to 27th Ave.
Brooklyn, N. Y.

Dear Graduates:

"This year the theme of the LEGEND is Royalty, and we hope to get some of its splendor and elegance into the book." Mary Corabi, our queenly editor, asked me to write a few words for the graduates and, in deference to her royal behest, I am happy to wish you all good health and good fortune as you say farewell to Lafayette.

I salute you who display royal talent, noble personality, regal conduct. We who dwell in a democracy still revere and respect our ancient heritage when there were lords and ladies. Despite our lip service to the common man of the twentieth century, we secretly admire the uncommon man. We practice uniformity while yearning to be different. We recognize nobility of character and bow before the aristocracy of intelligence. This is good, proper, and just. For in a democracy, we cannot entirely forget the medieval grace and resplendent courtesy that placed royalty at the heart and center of loyalty and pageantry. Therefore, let us roll out the red carpet for our parade of graduates, our own men and women of distinction!

While the fanfare of trumpets fades in our ears, let us turn for a moment to the disguised symbols of royalty still extant in our own lives. Take Brooklyn, our home town, the fond citadel of our everyday experiences. We write the King's English. We hold our commencement exercises at the Kings Theatre. We ride on Kings Highway. We vote in Kings County. Are these purely coincidental or the unconscious striving to revivify a vanished kingdom by the sea? We seek royalty in common things. We aim for the king pin in bowling. We declare a royal flush the winner in a game of poker. Shoppers receive King Korn stamps in the food market. On television we watch someone become "queen for a day." We say, "He's a prince of good fellows."

Let us touch solid earth for a moment. You do not need at all a family pedigree or a borrowed coat-of-arms to face the world. True aristocracy exists only in the mind and spirit. A poet said, "My mind to me a kingdom is." Another poet sang:

"The captains and the kings depart:
Still stands Thine ancient sacrifice,
An humble and a contrite heart."

Kipling found this idea in the Old Testament. We can try to echo it in our daily lives. Thank God for America where we prize not nobility of descent but rather nobility of ascent. The pre-eminent distinction is the royalty of virtue.

Enough of posing. Be yourself. You can be king or queen in your own right because our first parents thousands of years ago in the Garden were made the lords of creation. If you can rule yourself, give fealty and allegiance to Him who made you, deal with others with charity, then indeed you are a member of royalty. Blessings on thee!

Cordially yours,
Joseph Bellafiore

Advisers

Dear Girls and Boys,

Ave taque vale! We greet you with applause on the occasion of your graduation and we bid you farewell as you approach the portals of maturity. We watch you go with mixed feelings of hope for the future, remembrance of the past, and affection for that which you are. Our wish is that each of you may fulfill himself in the task that life demands of him and attain the goal of a good life inured in the virtues of faith, hope, and charity:—faith in yourselves and in the future of America—hope in the ideals and dreams that you have created for yourselves and in their ultimate reality—and charity for all who are your fellow travellers on the road to eternity. "The greatest of these is charity" because it embraces the love and understanding we owe to our neighbor and builds the union of universal brotherhood so basic for peaceful understanding in the world.

When all is said and done in our steps of advancement from one stage of progress to the next we find that each stage is a school, whether it be confined to the walls of a classroom or the walls of a home or an office. In each place there are lessons to be learned, decisions to be made, and people to be understood and loved. The answers we find in books build an encyclopedia of life situations by which we may guide our own lives if we weigh these examples discreetly. It is our obligation to share the things we learn so that others may enjoy the benefits we have found. Cicero, the great Roman philosopher says, "Let others be ashamed if they so bury themselves in books that they bring forth nothing into the light of day." Do you accept his charge and share the fruits of your learning and studies with others, not for materialistic gain but for the beauty of knowledge and the joy that it gives to living? We all acknowledge that each must find his place in life and earn his daily bread and we sincerely hope that each one of you will find that place and live in the well bred decor of gracious gentility. Yet, it is well to remember that "Man cannot live by bread alone," and that our education should enhance not only our own lives but those of our fellow men. It is the obligation of those who have the opportunity for higher learning to accept and to devote themselves to to its assiduous fulfillment.

It is the obligation of all of us to utilize whatever grace of intellect we have to the betterment of ourselves and to the understanding of all whom we meet. "It is better to light one small candle than to curse the darkness." Light your candles with tapers of beauty, love and understanding. Hold them firmly and high! The true glow of candle upon candle will flame as a huge torch and light the way for those who would follow in wake of the army of brotherhood. Your light may even become a beacon to the way of strength, decency, light and truth for those whose steps are now infirm.

Sincerely yours,
HERMAN BRENNER

As we look back on our years at Lafayette, we are amused, yet saddened, by the recollection of our Freshman and Sophomore terms. It is true that a great change has taken place, but the metamorphosis has not yet been completed, and four years from now we will remember our last year in high school with the same amusement and sadness as we now do our first.

Whether or not we will reach the pinnacle of development depends, to a great extent, upon the manner in which we use our greatest possession, our mind. There are those who have the ability and desire to channel our imagination along constructive lines, and it is up to us to learn from these people. However, we must also realize the necessity of thinking for ourselves, something which no one can teach us.

With this independent and logical reasoning will come the answers to many of our personal and public problems, and it will be a feather in the cap of the "royal" class of '60 if they are part of a new generation noted for its ability to build a strong and peaceful world using the resources of the mind.

MARY CORABI
Editor-in-Chief

The long-awaited moment has come when we, the graduating class of 1960, will toss the tassels on our caps to the left. Now the time is here to step out of the familiar sights and sounds of Lafayette in which our lives have been involved for the past three or four years. We too will become a part of the past for our school when we leave, as we join all the other graduating classes before us. But though our farewells to Lafayette will be sad ones, I am sure, the challenge of the future awaits us beyond her doors.

We hope and pray that with the help of God and the foundation of a good education, we will each succeed in our chosen field and be a credit to our family, our friends, our community and our country. It is to this royal future of lofty ideals molded by noble-minded youth, that this Legend yearbook is humbly dedicated.

"In '57 Sophomores were we,
Sing was Greek Mythology.
Zeus with roaring bolts of thunder
Was a sight we thrilled to see."

"Win? Of course we'll win!" That was the cry that followed the Saturday night performance of our Sophomore Sing. We were sure that Zeus, played by David Tawil, would lead us on to victory. Our theme was Greek Mythology, and even the Gods must have been shocked by our spirit. The curtain opened each night as the chorus, dressed in white and gold, sang:

"Oh, Mount Olympus is our home
Away up high, up in the sky,
From where we'll never roam . . ."

Chairman Jeffrey Bond and Co-Chairman Arlene Haber, along with Susan Goldberg and Caroline Katz, Lyric Chairman and Co-Chairman, created skits depicting, among other things, the deans, the confusing hallways of Lafayette, the characteristics of the Freshmen, Juniors and Seniors, and the famous Pioneer school bus:

"The old school bus, it ain't what it used to be,
You have to pay a double fee, it never wants to wait for me . . ."

Unfortunately, when the results were announced, the Juniors and Seniors had tied, and we had come in third. We vowed that next year we would win, and joined the happy, singing crowd headed for the Famous.

"When Junior year came rollin' 'round
Practice College Boards we found.
Studying became a habit
Now that we were college bound."

But all this hard work and college preparation didn't stop us from working like demons to produce a winning Junior Sing. This year, Lafayette "became an International Airport," and Chairman David Tawil, along with Co-Chairman Ellen Brandner, tried to convince the audience, as well as "Board of Education inspectors" Robert Sherman and Alan Ratner, that our high school would make a good airport.

"1,2,3 boys, we're up, we're down.
1,2,3 boys, our plane is off the ground . . ."

But once again, when the results were announced on Saturday night the Seniors had won, and we had come in second. Well, there's always next year. Famous, here we come!

"The Senior Year has now begun
We've learned to mix our work with fun."

This year Sing was again hard work, but we all had a good time. We just had to win. Bruce Green and Andrea Vetrano, our chorus leaders, were the driving force behind us. We could hardly wait for opening night, when the "Legend of Lafayette" would review the history of our school:

"Tonight, tonight, our show begins tonight,
The legend of our school we will bring.
From '39 right to the present time
Of stories in our past we will sing . . ."

We began at the beginning and went through the building of Lafayette, the formation of the G.O., Speakers' Bureau, our "victorious" football team, Sing, and, most impressive of all, the war years:

"Though too young to do our part in foreign battlefields,
We contributed as best as we knew how;
In the cause of life and freedom for humanity
To destroy, to destroy the Nazi vow . . ."

No one will ever forget the thrilling moment when the American flag was lowered, nor will they forget the spirit of our chorus as it rang out with "The Class of '60 Song."

We closed our last Sing with a beautiful alma mater, written by Jeffrey Lass, who had written many of our best songs through the years.

We won this year, and instead of the Famous, the whole Senior class tramped en masse to Wulfie's, for our long awaited "victory party."

"We'll never leave, but bodily,
For we will have our memories.
We've become a part of Lafayette
That's the way we'll always be!"

Merlin's Prophecy for

Once upon a time, in days of old, there lived a great king named Arthur. Wispy clouds slowly drifting apart revealed his majestic castle. One day, the castle buzzed with excitement, in preparation for a great feast that was to take place that night.

In the meantime, down in the depths of the castle the greatest of all sorcerers, Merlin, was busily adding the final touches to what would be the crown and glory of his career, a machine that could foresee the future.

As night fell, the guests assembled in the great banquet hall. After much feasting and revelry a sudden quiet, undertoned by a mysterious excitement, suffused throughout the room. Merlin was ready. The machine was unveiled, and 1975 was the year chosen to be explored.

A strange new land was revealed, and Arthur's guests could hardly believe their eyes. No castles, no serfs, no knights, no jousts. The only thing they recognized was something that looked like their own Round Table. The guests soon learned that in this strange land called America, the king was called "President" and those advisers by his side were his cabinet members.

The President of the United States, DAVID TAWIL, looked down at his advisers as they gathered to discuss the new budget presented by treasurer JOSEPH PANCILA. Busily recording the events of this meeting were executive secretaries ADELINE PEPE and ANN PRUSHIK. Unfortunately all did not run smoothly, for Secretary of Health, Welfare, and Education, AMBROSE LaROCCO, Secretary of the Interior, NICKY LAMPARIELLO and Secretary of State, BARBARA VENTURA, all claimed they needed more money. In addition, adequate funds had not been provided for the newly created Department of Science, headed by that brilliant Nobel prize winner, JOEL SCHIFF, whose latest contribution to science had been the discovery of infinity.

the Class of '60

Vice-President CAROLINE KATZ, Chief Justice PEARL PRESENT, and PHILIP EISENBERG, Presidential assistant, seemed to be the only ones satisfied. The meeting was temporarily interrupted when the United States representative to the United Nations, GAIL DACKMAN, entered with pressing news about the world crisis in Monaco.

At that point, the guests grew a trifle weary and they desired to see more of this mysterious land. To maintain their interest Merlin changed the scene.

New York, with its bright lights, dazzled the guests at first, but their curiosity got the best of them and they pressed Merlin to show them more. They got to see the premiere of the new musical "Merry-Go-Round," by that famous song-writing team of GREEN, GOLDBERG AND SCHIEREN. Inside the theater, director ANDREA VETRANO, producer ROBERT SHERMAN, and musical director JEFFREY LASS anxiously waited for the show to begin. ELSIE TOM and DIANE KIRSTEIN, the production's clothes' designers, and stage designer ANN PELTZER were equally nervous. Behind the curtain, JOHN ALICEA was giving last minute instructions to his dancers, and especially to his prima ballerina, JEFFREY BOND. Meanwhile, stars CAROL BRAVERMAN and ALAN RATNER were taking their places on the stage, along with the show's comedians, BRUCE BROWNSTEIN and NANCY SAPARATA. The producer's two new discoveries, IRV MOSKOWITZ and SUSAN BENEDETTO, were able to quiet their last minute hysteria by the time the overture had begun.

As the audience entered to take their seats, three famous people were spotted. There were famous Shakespearian actress EDITH SCHLACHT, just back from Stratford, and one of America's ten best dressed men, ROBERT PRICE. Also, distinguished ELLEN BRANDNER was there, who had recently won the Nobel prize for being the person who contributed the most to the world.

When this picture faded another soon replaced it. Boston was the scene of an educational conference discussing the nature of the country's high school curriculum. The major question was whether to put the emphasis on building strong minds, or building strong bodies. Moderator MARY CORABI, President of Barnard, called the conference to order, and distinguished guest speakers MARIAN ROSENTHAL, President of M.I.T., and Madame MALVINA KLEIN, professor at the Sorbonne, took their places on the dais.

Among the advocates for mental prowess were LOUIS NORDSTROM, famous writer and literary critic; ROBERT SANDLER, Editor of the New York Times; PHYLLIS HONICKMAN, Managing Editor of the same newspaper; VICTOR HOUSNER, Editor of the Atlantic Monthly; MARK SHERMAN and WENDY CHEYETTE, illustrators for the Saturday Evening Post. Last but not least was MICHAEL GUTMAN, chairman of the math department in that nationally famous and progressive high school, Lafayette. And there were still two more celebrated guests who had entered: ARLENE HOBERMAN and RONNIE MILLER, those two successful advertising agents from Madison Avenue, whose current book "The Hidden Dissuaders" is breaking all records.

Those who favored physical agility were such famous sports personalities as football star, JERRY FARELLA; basketball stars, IZZY ESSES and MARTY URAND; baseball star LARRY YELLIN; and Olympic winners HAROLD TEPPER and PAUL ALICEA. Finally, not to be excluded, JOANNE DeFALCO, sports editor of the Daily News.

As the others before it, this last picture slowly faded back into the archives of time to come. But only for a while will it remain untouched, for soon our dreams will become realities and this future will become the present.

Extra-Curricula Activities

Martin Mompier

Student G.O. Court

The student government, heded by Herbert Weisberg—the faculty adviser, David Tawil—President, Caroline Katz—Vice President, Adeline Pepe—Secretary, Jeff Lass—Treasurer, and Pearl Present—Chief Justice, led our school in a host of activities which helped to promote brotherhood, school spirit and unity.

Student Court

Many a Frenchie was tried by the Student Court and received fair punishment for his "crime." Lafayette's court is an old institution. Pearl Present was the Chief Justice during the past year and Mr. H. Levine was the Faculty Adviser.

Government

Senior Class Officers

President—Ellen Brandner; Vice President—Robert Price; Secretary—Ann Prushik; Treasurer—Joseph Pancila.

Senior Council

The Senior Day and Show, boatride and picnic at Bear Mountain, a Senior Newspaper, and the traditional prom were sponsored by the Senior Council under the supervision of Mrs. V. Dufort and Ellen Brandner.

Honor

Major "L"

The students who received a Major "L" have rendered service to the school. They have received 420 service credits during their stay at Lafayette. Service credits were accumulated at the end of each term and were given to students who were members of teams, worked in offices, or did certain jobs for teachers.

Major "L"

Societies

Arista

Arista is Lafayette's honor society. Arista members met three major qualifications: Character, Scholarship and Service. Arista students represented the top four per cent of our school. They had a minimum average of 88½ per cent and one hundred eighty service credits. The society flourished under the leadership of Mr. Leon Singer.

Arista Officers

Boy Leader—Philip Eisenberg; Girl Leader—Marian Rosenthal; Secretary—Ronnie Miller; Treasurer—Mary Corabi.

Literary

Legend

Ads, Senior Celebrity elections and graduation pictures are all a part of the work that was done by the industrious Legend staff. Much time has been devoted to creating an interesting and informative year book. The staff was headed by Mary Corabi and the faculty adviser was Mr. S. Levine.

Quill and Scroll

Quill and Scroll, a literary society, was chartered this year in Lafayette. The purpose of this organization was to give recognition to the hard working members of our three publications (LEGEND, LAFAYETTE NEWS, and MARQUIS) who have devoted much time and effort to their publications.

Societies

Marquis

The creative ability of Lafayette students was shown in the Marquis. Wendy Cheyette and Louis Nordstrom, the editors of the past year, brought the magazine to an even higher level. They were aided by Mr. Irwin Maiman, faculty adviser.

Frenchies received many copies of the Lafayette News this year. The News staff was led by Robert Sandler and Mr. Malcolm Largmann. This paper kept us up to date on all the goings-on about our school. It won many awards for the excellent job done by its members.

Lafayette News

Music and Band

"Ring Out the Cheers" and other school songs were played by the Lafayette High School Band at football games. The Band also performed at assemblies and concerts. It was conducted by Mr. Prucha.

Orchestra

"Porgy and Bess," "The Toy Trumpet," "Prelude and Fugue," "Snowride," and "The Light Cavalry Overture" were some of the pieces played by the Lafayette High School Senior Orchestra this year. The Orchestra, conducted by Mrs. Grace Greenwald, performed at special assemblies, concerts, and graduation.

Dramatic Organizations

Choral Clubs

Students who were members of Lafayette's Choral groups exhibited their musical talent when they sang at assemblies and Spring Concerts. The Choral Club was conducted by Mr. Nazer and Mrs. Warshaw. Mrs. Warshaw also directed the Cantata Club. The Glee Club was led by Mr. Nazer and Mrs. Rostov.

Speakers' Bureau

The thesbians of Lafayette, under the direction of Miss Curran and Andrea Vetrano, performed many t'mes for the students during their stay at Lafayette. They read the inspirationals at our assembly programs and participated in many of the plays presented.

Squads

Junior Coaches

"All together now, girls—1-2-3-4-"—This famous cry is familiar to every Lafayette girl who has been instructed by a Junior Coach. These girls aided the Health Education Department by working together with the teachers to teach exercises and sports.

Junior Red Cross Council

Under the expert guidance of Mrs. Leolya Reid, the members of the Jr. Red Cross Council have served their school and their community. The successful Christmas Stocking Drive was among the achievements of the council during the past year.

and Clubs

Stage Squad

Mr. Yates and his Stage Squad are noted for their fine work in constructing and painting the scenery for Lafayette's presentations. Neither Sing nor the Varsity show would be nearly as colorful or spectacular if it weren't for these boys, who have devoted much time and effort to their difficult job.

Mimeo-graph Squad

All of Lafayette's printed matter, including tests and notices, are provided through the courtesy of the Mimeograph Squad, assisted by Mrs. Margolis.

Social Studies Discussion Group

The Social Studies Discussion Forum gave students in our school the opportunity to broaden their knowledge of world politics through competitive discussions and debates with other schools. This group was successfully conducted by Mr. Feldman with the able assistance of Victor Hausner and Jeffrey Bond.

Newman Club

Last year the Newman Club was organized in Lafayette. Miss Carnese, Miss Egan and Miss Buckley were the leaders of this group. At their bi-monthly meetings religious leaders spoke and conducted informative discussions. During the term they held various religious and social functions.

Key Club

The Lafayette High School Key Club has collected clothing for needy children, collected articles for veterans at the Fort Hamilton Veteran's Hospital, and ushered at assemblies and during Open School Week. The officers of the Key Club were Lt. Governor—Philip Eisenberg, President—Ivan Portnoy, and faculty adviser—Mr. Yates.

Math Team

The Math. Team members found this organization a great help to them in their efforts to learn higher mathematics. Many students have benefitted from the guidance of Mr. Zuckerman, Faculty Adviser, and Joel Schiff, Captain.

Cheering

Cheering Squad

"M.L.H.S. Fight Team Fight!" shouted the Lafayette Cheerleaders at football and basketball games and rallies, building school spirit and improving team morale. Miss L. Katzman was the teacher in charge.

Boosters

Whether the sun was shining or dark clouds were seen above, the Boosters were loyal and attended each game. At half time they would take to the field and cheer our teams on to victory. The Captain of the squad was Maddie Krumholtz and the Faculty Adviser was Miss Leonora Katzman.

Section

Twirlers

The morale of Lafayette students at athletic games dur'ng the past year was greatly raised by the Twirlers, headed by Captain Margie Goldstein. The girls displayed skill and spirit as they performed their intricate routines.

Go-Getters

"Tickets to the Lafayette-Utrecht game!"
The melodious voices of the Go-Getters could be heard echoing through the halls of Lafayette before each important game. The girls sold tickets to the football, basketball, and baseball games. They were led by Faculty Adviser Mr. William Horn and Captain Ellen Brandner.

MATS

Sportlight

The stands are mobbed to capacity. It looks as if everyone in the entire kingdom has turned out to see this bit of merriment.

I think't t'is a game we shall win! No! I'm sure; defeat is inevitable for the "House of Utrecht." Why, they are mere amateurs compared to us, "ye greatest basketballers of all!"

Why, why we have gone undefeated, since, uh . . . . . let me see, since uh . . . Oh! there's the start of the contest.

Come my noble friend, let us watch the grandstands; t'is much more interesting than the contest, since we're sure to be the victor.

Ah! did I tell you that there are Gridders among the crowd: ALAN NOTURNO, JOHNNY FILOSA, KEN JACOBOWITZ, MILTY MOSKEWITZ, JOE FAZIO, CARL DiGIACOMO, ERNIE PECORARA, JACK PAPARO, BOB SHERMA, and, last but far from least, GUS LUMIA. Hark! me thinks me hears them singing. Let us listen . . .

"For AMBROSE is smiling and FRANK is glad
When JERRY gets down on the line,
Guards and ends call him a fine, husky lad
As he tackles them all at one time."

Ye Gods! look here in the third row! Aren't those the Booters? Yes! it's ANDY PASSARIELLO and his goal-getters: ARIE SEIDLER, HENRY SPADACCINI, JOE CAGGIANO, and STEVE MALTZMAN. Good men all; they've been in there kicking all season.

Wait! lest we forget about our hoopsters. Feast thine eyes upon the score! It can't be! No! T'is impossible! T'is a tie score! 18-18 . . . . this calls for some strong talk!

"On DIDO, on RON, on BOB, on IZZY
Get ye on, MARTY, knock them dizzy."

By the way, did you hear about those fellows who defeated the king's hunting dogs yesterday morn? Yes! t'was no other than STEVE AIELLO and the fleet footed bunch: BOB ACEVEDO, EDDIE BLANCO, and the boy who's still running cross country, HAROLD TEPPER.

I say, noble friend, look out there on the "Dust Bowl." Do you not see the Batsmen? It looks as if just a few of them are out there for some practice. Let us see, PAT CORSO is doing the catching and LARRY YELLIN is on the mound. VIC TARDIO, PHIL FESTA, and FRANK CARAVELLA seem to be warming up in the bullpen. JOHN MUSUMECI looks ready for action the way he is hitting that baseball.

I say, my friend, did you not hear about the match tomorrow down on the village green? Yes, they've gotten together the best Keglers in the entire countryside and matched them against each other. BOB SIBIRIUM with his keen eye is favored, but some of the Frenchies will bet their scholarships on FRANK GAGGI to take the match. Still, there are those who say that IRVING LEVINE is the Kegler to watch when the going gets rough.

Speaking of roughness, there in the first row are three of the roughest and toughest Gymnasts in the whole of the kingdom. PAUL ALICEA is about the "swingingest" fellow in the village. ALBERT CASALE has more "bounce to the ounce" than a jack rabbit. However, STANLEY DURST is reaching for still newer heights.

My friend, have we not forgotten something? The contest! What was the final score of the contest, come! come! man, don't just stand there, say something! We won? No! Surely you are jesting! You know, I believe you are telling the truth! Oh, noble friend, I feel faint. We won! We beat the HOUSE OF UTRECHT!

Irv Moskowitz

Athletic

Football

"Get one, Get two, Hike!" These were the words with which the football team started their offense in the toughest division in the city. The Frenchies closed out their schedule with a 2-5 record as four of our varsity members won awards for their excellent play. The gridders were coached by Mr. Kenneth Hernson and Mr. Paul Friedman.

Baseball

Strike three! You're out! Thus came to a close another victorious Maroon and White baseball game, as the Frenchie nine hurled and slugged their way to another championship. The baseball team was successfully coached by Mr. Ed Mitko, with captain John Musumeci.

Teams

Basketball

Swish! That's the sound of our Frenchie hoopsters hitting jump shots from the outside corner as they played their way to a final season record of four wins. Coached by Mr. Frank Rabinowitz, and with Captains Dave Tawil and Marty Urand, the Hoopsters surprised many teams with the quality of their play this season.

Soccer

Thud! That was the sound of a Frenchie booter's boot, as it kicked in another goal for the Maroon and White. The soccer team closed out another winning season upholding tradition with an 8-3-1 record. The team was under the tutelage of Mr. Leon LoMonaco, and captain Andy Passariello.

Gym

Alicea of Lafayette on deck! Those are the words that call captain Paul Alicea, of the Lafayette Gym team to prepare for his routine. Paul and co-captain Albert Casale led the team to second place in the city for the second consecutive year. An excellent job was done by the team's new coach, Mr. R. Berner.

Tennis

Point, game, set, and match—That was the way the Maroon and White's tennis team won its way to the upper standings in league competition. Included on the starting team were: Captain Bob Sherman; Mitchell Nodell, Charles Storm, and Irv Moskowitz. The Racketmen were ably coached by Mr. Emanuel Blank, chairman of the Biology department.

Golf

Fore! With this infamous cry one of the Frenchie clubswingers started his nerve-racking tour of the course. Their objective was to be on par and lead Lafayette into the upper echelons of High School golf. The golf team was skillfully coached by Mr. Philip Goldstein and captained by Alan Fabricant and Paul Weiner.

Bowling

Convert a spare! That's what the Frenchie Kegler's do when they don't get a strike. The bowling team has, by Mr. Martin Alweiss as its coach, and by Irving Levine as its captain, finished fourth in league standings.

The Lafayette track team has concluded its second consecutive year of P.S.A.L. competition. Captain Steve Aiello, and co-captain Harold Tepper are examples of the well conditioned trackmen on our team. This squad was led by Lafayette's outstanding veteran coach, Mr. Si Yudell.

PARENTS:

have you compared the cost of education loans?

You owe it to yourself to compare loan costs with the cost of the Insured Education Loan Plan of Manufacturers Trust Company.

For example, a four year, $4,000 education loan from Manufacturers Trust costs only $143.84.

A Personal Credit Counselor in any of our banking offices will help you borrow from $300 to $10,000—to finance education at any level—from primary grades to post graduate or business schooling—and for one to four years. You can take up to six years to repay.

Your life is insured at all times for the unpaid balance, thus assuring that the education of your son or daughter will be continued.

Before you borrow, come in and talk it over with one of our Personal Credit Counselors. He'll be glad to arrange an education loan for you. One of our 114 banking offices is very near where you live or work. 67 of them are open Monday evenings 6 to 8 p. m.

Typical Manufacturers Trust low-cost education loans

| Amount to be Financed | Course of Study | Period of Repayment | Monthly Repayment* | Cost per Year* |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| $ 1,000 | 1 year | 12 months | $ 85.41 | $ 24.92 |

Oh, talk not to me of a name great in story;
The days of our youth are the days of our glory;
And the myrtle and ivy of sweet two-and-twenty
Are worth all your laurels, though ever so plenty.

What are garlands and crowns to the brow that is wrinkled?
'Tis but a dead flower with May dew besprinkled:
Then away with all such from a head that is hoary!
What care I for the wreaths that can only give glory?

—Byron, "Stanzas Written on the Road between Florence and Pisa"

Alma Mater

Ring out the cheers our teams march on,
Ring out the cheers for good old Lafayette
Play the game with all your might
We're all together in the fight
On through the years we'll march along
Whoever hears will heed our song
Stronger we grow,
Forward we go
For Lafayette.

Our strong bond can ne'er be broken
Formed in Lafayette High,
Far surpassing wealth unspoken
Sealed by friendship's tie.
Lafayette High School, now and ever
Deep graven on each heart
Shall be found unwavering true
When we from life shall part.

O Lafayette, our sacred alma mater,
Within your walls dwell friendliness and charm,
We promise you, each loyal son and daughter,
To cherish you and shield you from harm.
In auld lang syne, your call o'er land and water,
Will bring us back, O Lafayette.
